We, the students and faculty of Brackenridge High School, have been blessed with another happy and prosperous year. The year of 1960 has proven very fruitful for everyone who has had a part of our beloved Alma Mater. As we pause to remember the past school year and the joy of the times we have spent at Brackenridge, our minds are crowded with many happy thoughts. To help preserve these thoughts for years to come, the La Retama has endeavored to capture the joys, the sorrows — the memories of life at Brackenridge High School.

Each letter in the word memories expresses a distinct era as we link together our school days. Meek and impressed with the massiveness of Brack were the sophomores as they experienced the first days of high school with timidness and humility. Encouraging messages expressed at the Orientation Assembly to welcome the newcomers were perhaps an important stepping-stone to aid self-confidence. Matchless to none was the pride and happiness of the junior while greeting his friends with outstretched arm, displaying his bright senior ring. Overwhelmed by the enchantment of romantic music, attractive decorations, and silhouettes shadowed on the wall, all are thrilled by a formal dance. Receiving a cherished honor and conquering a hard subject help to capture the feeling of belonging. Inspired by the cheering multitudes of spirited Eagles, the varsity teams proudly represent their school, whether the contests are won or lost. Each faculty member is remembered by a particular feature. It may have been merely an encouraging word, a friendly nod, or perhaps just the thought that they were willing to assist whenever needed. Sadness fills the hearts of seniors as they realize their high school days have finally come to an end, yet there is the joy of knowing that they can face everything that lies ahead with a smile, for memories of Brackenridge cannot be forgotten.

As each event forms a link in your chain of high school memories, so each student is a link in the golden chain which makes up the memories of B.H.S. With a tinge of sorrow as we know the school year ends, the 1960 La Retama Staff presents its forty-first edition to complete — your GOLDEN CHAIN OF MEMORIES.

Dedication

"A teacher affects eternity; she can never tell where her influence stops." Teachers may influence their students in many ways. The teacher who has been chosen for this dedication has been influencing her students for many years in three of the most important ways—guidance, examples, and instruction.

Proper guidance of a student is second only to instruction in a teacher's profession, and this Brackenridge teacher has done more than her share in this field. Her teaching position is a natural one for gaining the confidence of students, and her kind understanding and sincere interest has helped them immeasurably. She always has an encouraging word for struggling students, and she contributes much of her time to the guidance of those students who will become the leaders of our country within a few years.

By setting many good examples she has gained the respect and admiration of both students and faculty. Her smiling hello's and sympathetic manner reveal a charming disposition. There is no one who is more ready to accept extra duties or responsibilities, and her perseverance and diligence to duty are very important facets in an irreproachable character.

Actual instruction of students in a teacher's special field is of the utmost importance. There are many varied fields of teaching. Some are, by necessity, more formal than others; however, this lady prefers the less formal classroom and she is well known for her industrious group of students. Each day she teaches girls a skill which they will use throughout life; with limitless patience she assists her students in their work when a complication arises.

In appreciation for her years of service and loyalty to Brackenridge, the 1960 La Retama staff has chosen to dedicate this forty-first volume of La Retama to one whose golden deeds have carved another link in our chain of treasured memories. It is with gratitude that we dedicate "the Golden Chain of Memories" to a friend of everyone, Miss Selby Moore. We sincerely hope that Brackenridge students will continue to profit from her wonderful teaching for many more years.

Due largely to the efforts of the Class of 1960, Brackenridge High School is again assuming a prominent place among secondary schools in our city. "Eagleland is back on the educational map!" This achievement has not been an easy one — it has meant a strenuous effort on the part of many students and teachers.

But this effort is now bearing fruit in every class activity and extracurricular as well; our school is growing in size and quality. My sincere thanks to all of those who have made it possible! A special vote of appreciation to our successful football and basketball teams, for doing so much this past year to let the city know that we are very much alive.

Seniors, you are leaving us to never return, except as welcome visitors — but your contribution will live on to enrich the lives of those who come after you. As you take your place in adult society with the thousands of other Brackenridge graduates, may you practice the fine tradition of the Purple and White in your daily living, for surely this will better your adult lives.

Juniors and Sophomores, we look to you to carry on the high traditions that have been maintained here since 1918, the year our school graduated its first class. It is your duty to continue the progress made by the Class of '60.

And finally, to the Faculty should go much credit for our success. An unusual degree of patience, understanding, and devotion to the teaching profession have resulted in a very rewarding school year.

May God continue to bless you, by giving you continued opportunities to work, for work itself is a blessing not always appreciated.

Secretaries And Librarians

The many business transactions for the school are taken care of in the six offices of Brackenridge. These offices are run by a staff of very efficient and capable secretaries. Some students are not acquainted with the secretaries and their work, but as they become more familiar with the school they learn to know and appreciate the work done by this fine group of women. To be operated successfully a large school such as Brackenridge requires a great deal of office work. It is the duty of the office force to keep things running as smoothly as possible and to keep all records up to date. They spend many tiresome hours working at typewriters and writing long reports.

English Stresses Grammar, Literature

Miss Boehl washes a flat for one of her productions.

A vast majority of students today fail to realize the importance of good English; however, it is among the most essential subjects a student is required to study. Correct English is of vital importance in every walk of life. A solid foundation should be established in English while a person is young and throughout his life he should continue to broaden his knowledge of it. Before graduating a student must take six semesters of English. For students preparing to go to college English VII and VIII are also available.

Courses in public speaking and dramatics are also included on the growing list of fascinating subjects offered to Brackites. Many enjoyable, as well as long and tiresome, hours are spent by students who find the world of dramatics intriguing. In the study of dramatics a student discovers the secrets which enable actors to become completely different characters while on stage. Public speaking trains students to speak before an audience with expression and self confidence.

Mrs. Bassel devotes all of her spare time to her son, Dabney.

Mrs. Fields checks her mailbox to see what's up.

Around The World At B.H.S.

The development of civilization is the most colorful and astounding story which can ever be told. Amazing discoveries which have been made about the old world are fascinating. Some of the secrets of ancient times are dark mysteries which still remain unsolved. A novel which surpasses some of the actual dramatic situations that took place on this earth will never be written. While civilization grew, curiosity grew, and new lands were explored. The history of our own country is one of many harrowing hardships, as well as progress.

High school students are now required to have minors in history; however, many continue the study and earn majors. Brackites must take American history and civics. World history and Texas history are also offered. A thorough study of the United States government is covered in civics, and the chain of events which makes up the history of the Western Hemisphere is studied in American history.

Suddenly It's Math,

Whether you are planning to enter a college, get a job, or be a housewife after graduation you will always have a need for mathematics. Everyday you will be concerned with matters involving numbers. When a freshman begins high school he may take algebra or general mathematics. A student planning to attend college usually takes algebra. General math continues the fundamentals of arithmetic in a more advanced form, but algebra introduces students to problems involving unknowns and solutions which are quite different. After the completion of algebra, college entrants should continue their study in geometry or trigonometry. Even when a student is not preparing for college entrance the knowledge which can be obtained from advanced mathematics courses offered in high schools proves to be of value throughout his or her life.

"Aw shucks, it's too big to bury," sighs Miss Mead's dog

Mr. Bright enjoys checking students' workbooks while teaching night school at Tech.

Miss Wharton makes out dues receipts for members of the American Association of University Women.

Science, Satellites

The study of science has been stressed since the development of space travel has become such a vital necessity for our country's progress and well being. Many new and fascinating fields are opening in science. Students who have a sincere interest in science will have many opportunities to participate in rewarding work if they increase their knowledge of science. A student must have a minor in science to graduate from high school, but a major is wise for those who intend to enter college. Whether a student's interest lies in a human bone structure, the nuclear changes in matter, protazoans, or the composition of chemical compounds, the science department of Brackenridge has something to offer him. Physics, chemistry, biology, and physiology are available at Brackenridge. Chemistry and physics laboratories enable students to experiment during the study

Vocational, Commercial

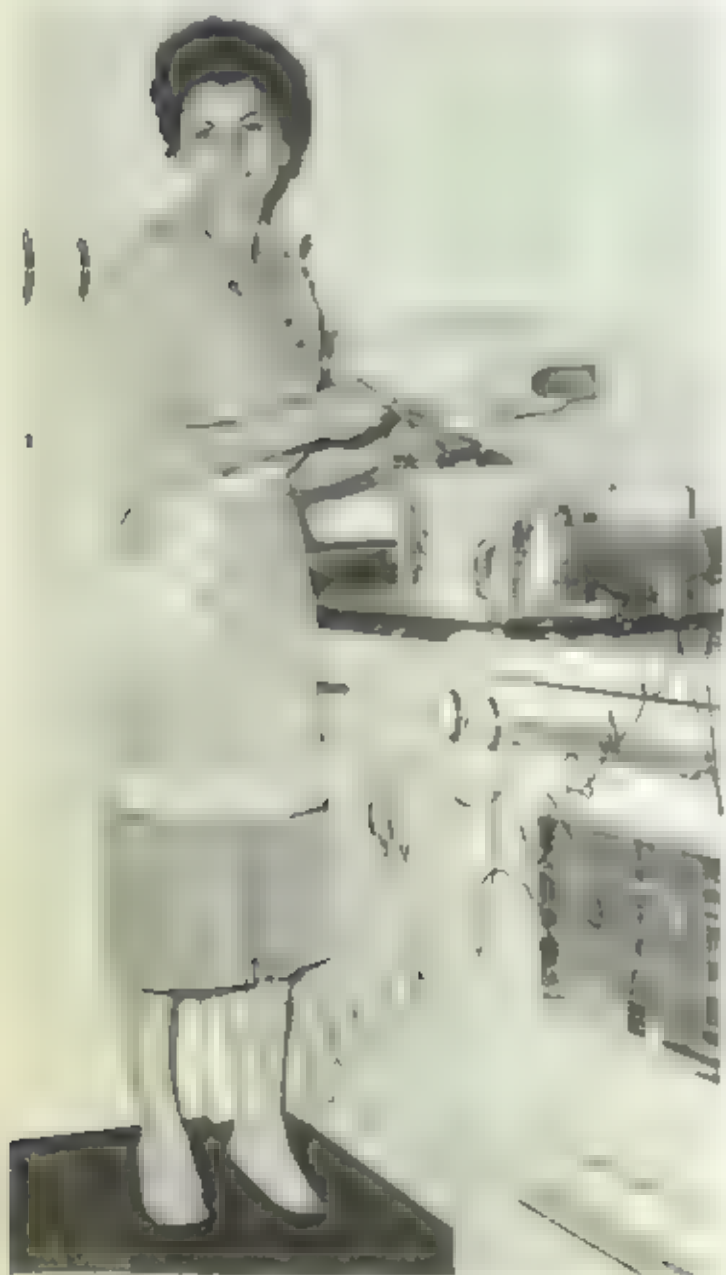

Mr. Bittner enjoys watching one of those great football games played by the Brackenridge Eagles.

The vocational shops have become very popular at Brackenridge in the past few years. Students who do not intend to go to college are given the opportunity to learn practical arts. The print shop has become a favorite with many of the boys. The training received in this course proves very valuable to a young man when he is on his own.

The foods laboratory at Brackenridge enables girls preparing for housekeeping to practice an art which they will use throughout life. In this course girls learn to prepare foods which are appetizing and also healthful. Since this course is so practical, every girl who plans to raise a family should try to include it on her schedule.

Mechanical drawing teaches many of the boys at Brackenridge an art which is of great value in the modern world of engineering. It develops the accuracy and precision of the student's technique and arouses an interest in the different fields in which this skill may be used. A knowledge of this art proves very useful.

Miss Lyssy cooks all of her meals daily, and she assists her students in preparing theirs.

Mr. Carter tells the inspectors how the printing machines are operated.

Train Future Leaders

Commercial courses offered to the students at Brackenridge are proving popular. These courses are especially valuable for students who do not enter college. Bookkeeping is a very essential commercial course; students obtain a great deal of knowledge from it which they can put to use in the business world.

Shorthand is a favorite course with many of the career-minded girls at Brackenridge. In the business world of today proficiency in shorthand is a "must." It is an open door to a variety of careers in business. It is almost impossible to secure a job in any type of office work without some knowledge of it.

One of the most profitable courses taught at Brackenridge is typing. It proves to be a great asset to college students, as well as those who go into the business world after finishing high school. At Brackenridge students have the opportunity to have a minor in typing by completing the four semesters which are offered.

Mrs. Higdon's favorite hobby is making floral arrangements for every occasion and for her friends and teachers.

Many students were introduced to a fascinating and unfamiliar world for the first time this year through the study of Russian. Although it is still regarded as unusual in the West, the importance of the language cannot be overestimated. Students should take advantage of this course at Brackenridge; it is the first high school Russian course offered in Texas.

Spanish is, by far, one of the most beautiful and romantic languages of the world. It is spoken so extensively in the Western Hemisphere and in so many other areas of the world that students should not fail to absorb as much knowledge of it as possible. Brackenridge offers Spanish I, II, III, and IV for students who are interested.

The choral department offers hours of pleasure for the musical students at Brackenridge. It is composed of a mixed choir, a girl's choir, and a special choir for beginning students. The members are given an opportunity to enter state contests and to compete with other students.

Miss Chamberlain's most enjoyable pastime is playing the organ.

I wonder what Mr. Albright wants to tell us in Russian?

P.T.A. Sponsors Open House

The Brackenridge P.T.A. has completed another year of worthwhile work. The year began with the election of officers and the annual campaign to get more members into their worthy organization. They sponsored a delicious Mexican supper early in December during the annual open house night. The wonderful Aloha Prom for all the graduating seniors was also sponsored by the P.T.A. bringing the year to a close. For many years the P.T.A. has strived to bring the home and school closer together. They work diligently trying to promote a better understanding between the student, the teacher, and the family. Whenever they can be of service to the school in any way they are always willing to help as much as possible. The work of the P.T.A. is done for the benefit of all Brackenridge students; therefore we should give them all our support and urge our parents to join the Association at the beginning of each school year. If the parents will support the P.T.A. our school will benefit greatly.

Satisfying the tastes of everyone in a large school is not an easy task, but through the efforts of the cafeteria workers, the Brackenridge students and faculty were able to purchase tasty and nutritious lunches. Each day they worked for hours preparing a variety of appetizing and nourishing hot foods. They also prepared delicious hamburgers, barbecue buns, and other sandwiches for those preferring cold lunches. In the morning before school, students and faculty could buy coffee, cocoa, toast, and warm pies. This year the upstairs cafeteria was reopened and students were permitted to purchase and eat candies, pies, sandwiches, potato chips, and cold drinks there. The upstairs cafeteria helped relieve some of the congestion in the downstairs cafeteria and lines moved much faster.

Working behind the scenes at Brackenridge is a group of very hard working deserving people the custodians. Students sometimes fail to realize that the piece of paper which they leave on the floor or in a desk causes more work for those people. We should all be more careful about the waste paper and try to make the custodian's jobs a little easier. Striving to keep Brackenridge clean and beautiful, they must begin their work early in the morning. They not only keep rooms and halls clean, but also well heated during the winter. Repairing damaged equipment is also included on their long list of chores. These and many other jobs keep them at school until late at night long after everyone else has returned home. Their duties are very tiresome and they require a good deal of energy and strength.

Senior Class Officers

The Class of 1960 had the privilege of graduating as a new decade unfolds. The realization that the long awaited goal was near came in the fall when the seniors first posed for La Retama pictures in their caps and gowns.

As the semester progressed preparations for the senior dance got underway. The committees met and everyone helped to make "Christmas Fantasy" a reality. The seniors and their guests danced under a canopy of ice-blue and silver and glittering snowflakes. The mood was completed by the rhythmic music of Felix Solis. Held in the boys gym, this dance was one of the most successful senior dances ever held at Brackenridge.

As the year continued the work increased and many seniors found themselves pondering over college entrance exams. Those not going to college also began making serious plans for the future. During this time invitations had to be ordered so guest lists were made and one more step brought graduation nearer.

Spring played host to several memorable events. The traditional class picnic was given in May, and seniors were dismissed from school for a half day to enjoy the occasion. Delicious food and various games made the afternoon perfect. The Senior Play was given in May. It also proved successful and was enjoyed by everyone. The deciding week finally arrived when final examinations were given. After this last week the seniors celebrated their good fortune. Many were honored with parties, teas, and luncheons.

At last the moment arrived. Three of the happiest years of their lives came to an end as the seniors walked across the stage of the Municipal Auditorium on May 31 to receive their diplomas. Following the graduation, all of the seniors were honored by the P. T. A. with the "Aloha Prom." This wonderful dance, which has become a custom, brought the year to a delightful climax and completed the chain by adding the last link to their "Golden Chain of Memories."

The new officers are presented at a senior class meeting. The smiles indicate they are very proud of their elected positions.

The junior class started off their year ready to make their class bigger and better than ever before. After the election of officers in May, the class was well under way. A new sponsor, Miss Mead, took over Mr. Nelson's place as the class sponsor helping Miss Wharton.

Soon dues were taken and the junior class was progressing nicely. The juniors received their senior rings in the last of the fall semester in 1959. As always, the polishing and the showing off of the rings accompanied this occasion.

Plans were then under way for another well-known Brackenridge tradition, the junior "Sweetheart Prom." The date set for February 11, the junior class lost no time in appointing different committees to work on the dance.

The juniors had another social event at the end of the regular school year. The junior picnic was held in April and a good time was enjoyed by all who attended the event.

As always, elections were held in May for all senior class officers for the coming year. Also, juniors were chosen to usher in the senior graduation exercises held May 31.

The next step for the juniors was soon beginning to show. The seniors were leaving and this meant the juniors were to soon be the leaders of the school. Plans were being made for the future, grades were beginning to become harder, and money was being saved for the college education. This was only the beginning of the full responsibility with which these juniors were to be faced.

The sophomores finally reached the third step in their school life, high school. The thrill of meeting new friends and the sadness of leaving the ones who have gone to other schools is part of the ritual of coming to high school or any new school.

The sophomores have prided themselves as having one of the largest classes in Brackenridge. By far, this class is more outstanding from their enrollment than either of the higher ones. What they lack in superiority they make up in number.

The new class started off their school activities by electing the sophomore class officers. The sponsors, Mr. Flournoy and Mrs. Field, led them in everything they did.

Assemblies and pep rallies enabled the new students to get acquainted with their new school.

Their main class project was raising money for a picnic which was held at one of the local parks in April.

The sophomore learns many things during his stay at Brackenridge: how to co-operate with his fellow students and share his talents. The work and training he receives in high school is the root to his future occupation.

When May finally rolls around the sophomore has experienced one of the most trying situations he shall ever come against. He has met his challenge and overcome it. He looks forward to his junior and senior year with anticipation; then his fourth step in life which, by the rights of man, is his to choose as he pleases.

In Many Events

The end of the year found the Brackenridge Eagle Band further along the road towards accomplishing their goal of traditional greatness. With the same determination they have been noted for, the band overcame their handicaps of size and inexperience. Under the direction of Mr. Aubrey Phillips, the band once more provided the musical background for drills which they helped present at football games. They also supported the team by traveling to Kerrville to attend the football game. School spirit was aroused by their thundering music at all pep rallies and the assemblies. On the night of Open House they presented a wonderful concert which added the finishing touches to a very outstanding program. With spirit they loyally represented Brackenridge at several parades. The members found it also necessary to launch several money-making projects during the busy schedule. Money had to be earned for new uniforms, so with the help of the other organizations the most successful record hop ever staged at Brackenridge was given. This project was followed by paper drives and magazine sales. The hard work and efforts have proved rewarding to the band, and their desire to be the best lends proof that their progress will continue.

A precision marching drill is displayed by the Band and P.J's.

T. Rodriguez, Lib.; L. Odom, Qtrmstr.; and D. Monroy, Lib. and Assistant Qtrmstr., were Brackenridge Band officers of 1960.

Officers Train For Leadership

The Reserved Officers Training Corp of Brackenridge offers military training and experience to all boys who are interested. The training received in this organization proves invaluable to young men when they enter military service. Although the members of the R. O. T. C. work diligently to raise their standards, they also have many opportunities to have fun. During the summer, the members and their dates had loads of fun at the corp picnic. They showed a great deal of school spirit at pep rallies during football season and at several of the games they drilled with the band and pep squad. In the spring the Military Ball the biggest social event on their calendar, was the scene of many hours of dancing and the presentation of well-deserved awards. Spring proved to be quite a busy season for the R.O.T.C. because during these months they participated in several contests. These included the Annual Interschool Drill Competition, and the Rifle Team Intercity and Intracity Competition. At the annual Field Day Ceremonies, awards were given to the outstanding members. The year was brought to a close with the Federal Inspection.

Staffers Enjoy

Enjoying a year of memories was the Brackenridge Times Staff, the school paper. To start the year successfully, members of the staff acted as salesmen to entice students at the school to subscribe to the Times for a semester.

Meeting deadlines, trying for scoops, and selling ads all became part of the everyday life of a Times staffer. After the first issue was published, permanent appointments were made and some students assumed the duties of page editors while others worked as reporters. Still necessary for all members, however, was the job of selling ads, the bread and butter for a newspaper. All contributed to the editing of this bi-weekly.

Lawrence McMillan, editor-in-chief, pastes up proofs.

Rosemary Preacher, business manager, records the ads sold by staffers.

Rhonda Dubrasky, feature editor, discusses coming events on the calendar with Ruby Groth, the social news editor.

Copyreaders Ruth Palacios and Carolyn Carvajal are responsible for checking proofs and writing all headlines.

Explaining an item on the galley proof to Sportswriter Tom Sandoval is Vincent Adamo, editor of sports pages.

Work, Fun

On December 3-5 several members of the staff joined the yearbook members and treked to Denton, Texas, for the annual Texas High School Press Association Convention. Many new ideas were learned and acquaintances made. In December, too, came the Christmas party, shared with members of the La Retama staff. Gifts were exchanged, games played, and platefuls of good barbequed chicken were soon eaten.

With the start of a new semester subscriptions were again sold, and new members were to be added to the staff. Constant efforts were always being made to improve the quality of the "Oldest High School Newspaper in Texas."

Selecting a theme and dedication for the annual was our first link in the chain which was to become our golden chain of memories. During the summer the staff met to plan the work to be done in the fall. When school started the cover was chosen and layouts were begun. Pictures were taken of school activities and the junior staff was kept busy selling ads. With the approach of each deadline the office was a flurry of activity as we strived to complete each section.

There were also many pleasurable moments, both planned and unplanned. In the spring the members attended a newspaper and yearbook workshop at the University of Texas. The winter found us at the T.H.S.P.A. convention in Denton, Texas. Several parties and the final banquet became the last link in our chain. We, the annual staff, feel that we have had no more golden memories than those we shared while planning and working together to publish the 1960 La Retama.

Officers Lead

An unforgettable year of work, play, and progress was recorded in the Purple Jacket scrapbook for the past year. There are many memories of the activities in which they participated while working to support Brackenridge and arousing school spirit.

Marking the first step on their road to success were the performances at the football games. Marching with the Eagle Band, the pep squad resumed the practice of drilling during halftime. The Purple Jacket's drill team, the Dillettes, also performed at basketball games. The progress continued as they continuously practiced marching in preparation for the parades.

Along with all the work, many lighter moments were had by the P.J.'s. At the close of football and basketball season, they honored the players with the traditional banquets. A Christmas party, at which a hilarious skit was presented and gifts were brought for orphans, was enjoyed by the members and the administration. In May, new cheerleaders and officers were elected. These girls were crowned by the previous officers at a wonderful banquet. The coronation was followed by a dance, thus bringing the year to a climax.

Sales A Big Success

Representation of the student body is accomplished through the Student Council organization. Members are elected from each advisory by their classmates. Many helpful activities are undertaken by this group to better Brackenridge. One of their main projects is the management of the student store which enables students to buy supplies at school. They are also responsible for the Student Directory. At Christmas they worked diligently to fill cheer baskets for the Clearing Bureau, and clothes and toys for needy families. La Retama sales are also handled by the Council members. Many hours are spent making pom-poms for the P. J.'s and student body.

Several social affairs were also sponsored by the Student Council. The annual "Kick-Off Prom" was the scene of laughter and gay dancing. They attended the Alamo Association of Student Councils and delegates were sent to the T.A.S.C. convention in Corpus Christi.

Journalists Make Quill And Scroll

Members of the Times and La Retama staffs with outstanding abilities in journalism are rewarded for all their work with membership in Quill and Scroll. To obtain membership in the honor society a student must be a junior with a 3.0 average or a senior in the upper third of his class and be recommended by the Times or La Retama sponsor. Each student must then be approved by the Executive Secretary of the Quill and Scroll Society. An initiation ceremony at which members are presented pins that give their positions is held during a school assembly in early spring. These pins are a symbol of the honor and are worn with pride by each member. Twenty-seven new members were initiated this year and Mrs. Willson sponsored the Society.

One of the highest honors which a school can bestow upon a graduating senior is membership in the National Honor Society. Striving to be elected into this organization is one of his main goals from the time a student enters Brackenridge until he graduates.

A student is chosen on the basis of outstanding service to the school, leadership ability, scholarship, merit, and character. Juniors with these same outstanding abilities are also elected into the Society. An impressive initiation ceremony is presented in May.

Killeen Grounds First Flight

BRACK VS. KILLEEN

A much improved and hopeful Eagle squad traveled north for its first competition of the 1959 gridiron season to meet the powerful Killeen Kangaroos. However, the team boasting 7 juniors on its lineup was turned back with a 32-6 defeat. The loss to Killeen was the second in two years for Brackenridge, but presented a better showing than its predecessor and brought out the hard work put into the team. The mighty Kangaroos had no easy game, however, for the score didn't tell the tale. Brackenridge managed to match the Killeen power throughout the game but was forced to let the Kangaroos outscore them on a few mistakes.

Again and again the Eagles' gridiron machine made its way down to the opposing goal line only to see disappointment kill their efforts and turn the pigskin over to the nervous Kangies. The lone Brackenridge tally came after Stallings ate up bits of yardage with the help of Smith and Galan in the first half. The long, overdue drive was climaxed by a two-yard plunge by Stallings. The victors also owned the best play of the game, which saw a Killeen halfback scoot the majority of the field for a last-minute touchdown in the second period to boost the score to 20-6. A stubborn Eagle forward wall put up a terrific fight against the heavier Kangaroos. The air attack, however, kept the Eagles in trouble all through the game.

BRACK VS. ST. GERARD'S

The fleetfooted Eagle backfield carved out hunks of yardage behind its rock-ribbed line to fade out the hopeless Royal Blues, 47-0. The mighty Eagles scored first on a 65-yard punt return by Belton Smith, and then within minutes sent Chff Stallings 44 yards to the blue-grass two yard line. From there Smith scored on the following play and later combined forces with Stallings for six additional points. But a 20-point lead didn't satisfy Stallings' desire, and after having a 45-yard run nullified, he returned with a run that left sixty percent of the field in his tracks.

Belton Smith later reached paydirt on a 78-yard run and boosted the score to 34-0 at the halftime. After the intermission Brack came back to score two more for the road. The first was a drive climaxed by a 40-yard run in favor of Cliff Stallings and guided by Galan. But the last was gained the hard way. After moving the ball little by little, McCall caught a 40-yard pass that went to the inner ten-yard line, a penalty pushed the squad back to the 20; this forced Fernando Galan to throw for 20 yards to Floyd Blanks in the end zone. The whole Eagle squad shone in the lopsided Brackenridge victory that helped to even the record at one win and one loss. This was the second time that the Eagles have set back the Royal Blues in their two years of competition.

BRACK VS. EDISON

The majestic Eagles knocked the glitter off the twice victorious Edison Bears, 13-0. Brackenridge barred the Bears after a bad start in which it dropped a few punts and got off on the wrong wing. However, after all the mistakes had been made in the first quarter, Stallings came charging back with a touchdown. The 58-yard second period touchdown drive started on a fourth down try when quarterback Fernando Galan gambled for four yards, and instead claimed the needed yardage and an extra 29 with it. Then the hard-faking, bull-doing, field general rang up another ten to the Bear 16 yard line. From there Stallings raced to the two, but a penalty on the play set Brack back to the 31, from where Stallings galloped the distance to climax the drive. The point after touchdown was good, and Brackenridge led 7-0 at the half. After the halftime ceremonies were over and the head knocking resumed, the Warbirds threatened again and again but could never push the ball across the final stripe. The third period ended that way, and then early in the fourth stanza Edison punted the ice setter of the game. Stallings received the pigskin on the fourteen, and as his waiting arms clinched the ball he started on a punt return that didn't end until he had crossed into the promised land. The failure of the extra point at this stage of the game ended the night's scoring and gave the high-flying Eagles their second win in three rugged contests.

Glittered Bears Fall Beneath Eagle Claws

BRACK VS. KERRVILLE

The high-flying, statistic-minded, mighty Eagles journeyed to Kerrville for the game that ended up as the first foreign gridiron victory in the school's history since the 1956 campaign, 29 battles back. Clifford Stallings and Fernando Galan provided the fame-growing one-two punch as they piled up 201 of the 206 yards gained by the invaders. The first Eagle score came after Tivy kicked to Brackenridge and held a 7-0 lead. The Warbirds received, and nine plays and 68 yards later Stallings recorded from the one. But this was only the beginning, for before the clock had ticked off its closing second Brack had scored twice again. The second score came in the third stanza when Brackenridge intercepted a Tivy missile and Galan guided it back to the thirty yard line; from there they bought some paydirt with 7 plays and 6 points. However, the try for two points failed and Brack led 14-7 going into the final period. But it was here again that the Eagles struck the scoreboard with seven points after Stallings raced 17 yards before penetrating the final stripe, and Wardell Hollis came through with the extra point. The 17-yard run was set up after Fernando Galan had executed a perfect keeper over tackle for 13 yards, and a good-looking first down on the seventeenth stripe. The final Antler tally came with 33 seconds remaining in the game and shortened the margin to six points, 21-15. Brackenridge threatened twice inside the fifth marker but either ran out of plays or time

Eagles Zoom Past Tivy 21-15

BRACK VS. LAREDO

The rambling Warbirds, bucking for their third victory in a row, rolled past the former district champs with a terrific force. So quick was the Eagle attack that Brack claimed their first tally early in the first quarter when Carroll Cobb returned a punt 55 yards without being touched once by an opposing player. Fernando Galan scored on the next series of plays when he weaved his way through the Tiger opposition for a 15 yard touchdown. Hollis kicked the extra point to make it 13-0 for the tourists, but the homesteaders came back to score and end the half at 13-6. Brack's final points came in the third stanza along with a 24-yard-pass play from Galan to Hollis. Clifford Stallings ended the night's excitement with an 64-yard penalized run. Final score, 19-6.

BRACK VS. LANIER

The highly spirited Eagles claimed their fifth triumph in a row at the expense of the Sidney Lanier High School Voks in their second game for the district crown to the tune of 20-7. Brackenridge scored in the first period when Clifford Stallings scooted around end on a 35-yard touch-down play. But early in the second stanza the Voks displayed their version of the same play for a 45-yard tally that set the Eagles behind after the extra point. This was the first time Brackenridge had trailed their opponent at the half since their opening game with the Kangaroos from Killeen. However, the second half remedied the situation when Ernest Miles intercepted the most important pass in the game and sprinted 45 yards for the score. The extra point put the Eagles ahead again, and later Stallings assured the win with a trot around end for the final score.

BRACK VS. ALICE

The high-flying Eagles, placed first in district standings at the time, met their initial disaster in district competition at the hand of the Alice Coyotes. It was also Brack's first game without their star fullback, Clifford Stallings, who led in both city and district rushing yardage standings. Stallings was out with an injured leg. The Eagles put up a strong fight against the highly rated invaders, but ended up on the short end of a 34-18 conclusion. Fernando Galan, Belton Smith and Mike McCall were credited for the Eagle tallies. Galan scored on a one-yard plunge for the first six points. Smith later tallied on a three yard run over tackle, and Mike McCall climaxed the night's scoring with a three-yard pass off the arm of Fernando Galan.

The Eagle team adds ten more yards to its record and picks up another first down.

Eagles Bandaged Up

BRACK VS. BURBANK

Once again the mighty Brackite gridgers went onto the gridiron partially crippled by injuries and once again the Brack eleven failed to come through victoriously. But this time, however, the Eagles suffered their worst shellacking of the season, 33-0, at the hands of Burbank's Bulldogs. The game was played under a heavy drizzle causing many fumbles on both sides and hindering Brack's prized aerial attack. However, to give credit where credit is due, the Bulldogs were really on the ball for the game. Their attack was so good that it seemed as if the Bulldogs scored on every attempt at the goal line.

Eagles Rip Tech

BRACK VS. TECH

Victory was the golden word as the revengeful Eagles met the suprisingly tough Tech Buffaloes in their semi-final game of the season. And victory it was as the Warbirds romped over the Buffs 12-2 for the sixth victory of the season and the third victory in district play. Brackenridge's first touchdown came when Clifford Stubbins ran over from the two yard line early in the third quarter. Fernando Galan scored Brack's second tally when he presented his own version of a two-yard plunge, also in the third stanza. The Buffs earned their two points when the Eagles were tied down deep in Brack territory and tried to punt out of danger. Lupe Guerrero fumbled a bad snap from center and was forced to recover in the end zone, giving Tech their only chance to score in the contest. The Eagles failed to score on extra points. Galan's try on the first tally was caught short of the marker and Wardell Hollis' kick for the second was a bit off. The teams were so evenly matched that almost the entire game was spent running up and down the center of the field.

The Eagles and the Antlers also proved to be worthy of creating some masterpieces. This one is called "A Big Mess."

BRACK VS. EDGEWOOD

Brack's disappointed Warbirds and Edgewood's poorly rated Red Raiders battled themselves to a 0-0 deadlock in what was the gridiron final for both schools of the 16-AAAA district. The victory seeking Sky Warriors opened the game with a terrific showing as they bullied their way to the Edgewood one yard line where Lady Luck slapped them in the face with a fumble on a third-down try. The Raiders then punted out of danger a few plays later, but the Brackites returned with another drive. However, this drive also met disaster in a similar way. And so went the rest of the contest until four quarters and four drives later a whistle ended the scrap. However, the Red Raiders weren't pushed around throughout the night and did manage to boost one drive that went beyond the 20-yard line. In addition to this the opposition also piled up lots of yardage between the thirties, but never went any farther than the twenty but once. This was the second year that Edgewood rose from its ranks to battle the mighty Eagles on even terms.

The Brackenridge Eaglets took off on the wrong wing as they started their 1959 football season with three losses, then stormed back to win six of their last seven games. The young Brackites suffered an upset at the hands of a considerably weaker Lanier team in their initial encounter, 0-14. They then fell beneath MacArthur 8-16 and received a 24-0 beating from the Edison Cubs. But the Eaglets found the right route in their fourth contest and walloped the "B" team Buffaloes from Tech 22-0. The following week the Eaglets faced the Highland Owlets in a rivalry game that would lift the pride of either school. But the "B" team came through and walked with proudness after whipping the Highlanders 14-12. Brackenridge then tripped Jefferson 12-8 in a hard fought battle that also consisted of a strong rivalry and took Central 24-0 on the Brack field. Their greatest game was against the Sam Houston Injuns when they came from behind, 12-18, to scalp the Warriors 38-18 at the end of the contest. But then the season ended as it began, the Eaglets dropped their final game to Burbank 0-6. A win would have given the Brackites a tie for the first place. The Eaglet squad was led by Captain George Saldana, Andrew Benford, Leo Bryant, Glenn Miller, James McCall, Ronnie Jones, and Victor Reyna.

Eagles Post 10-4 Record In Non-Conference Games

Brackenridge's sharp-shooting Eagle eagles made their 1959-60 debut with a heart-breaking loss to Highlands High Owls 42-46. However, the round-ballers bounced back into the victorious ranks with a lopsided win over the Edison Bears, 50-35. Then fast moving schedule then presented the Brackites on the Alamo Heights Court with a respectable entry. The Voks jolted the Eagles in their opening game of the tournament and placed them in the consolation bracket, which they won three games and one day later. The Warbirds first defeated Edison, 51-46 in the loser's bracket and then earned their right to the throne by whipping the Harlandale Indians, 52-38. In the championship game the Eagles gained revenge and glory by trouncing the Highlanders 50-14 in a game that saw the entire Eagle squad play. The Eagles then continued on their winning ways by scalping Sam Houston's Cherokees 52-47, and later relived old memories by rushing past the Harlandale tribe 49-48. The Baytown Ganders then eliminated the Eagle squad in their initial game of the San Antonio Tournament by the score of 50-64. A change of scenery then changed the Eagles luck and Brackenridge defeated Kerrville on the Tivy court 62-58.

After two successful district contests Brack sought its next non-conference victory when they went against their cross-town rivals, Jefferson, and came through, as expected, with a 57-45 win over the highly-rated Mustangs. Later in the season the Harlandale Red Men contributed once again to the Brackites' victory list with a 40-32 defeat at the southside reservation. The following night the Eagles defeated the Central Buttons 79-58 and ended their non-conference competition with a ten win and four loss record, and a consolation trophy compliments of the Alamo Heights Tournament.

Wright displays his perfect form as he helps to beat Laredo

BRACK vs LAREDO

The battling Birds opened their district 16-AAAA in fine style by halting the Martin High School Tigers of Laredo 46-43. The Eagle victory broke Laredo's jinx, for they had never been defeated in district play on their own court. High point man for the Eagles was sharp-shooting James Valdez with 22 points, six points ahead of Earl Wright. The Eagles gained revenge on the hometown Cats after dropping a heart-breaker to them in last year's race for the championship crown, and simultaneously threatened to take the title away.

The twice-stunned Warbirds clung to their district championship hopes by turning back the hustling Laredo Tigers 41-34, in what was a crucial battle in district 16-AAAA competition. The game was the Eagle starter in the second round of the district race, after having played two non-conference games between rounds. Earl Wright, Wardell Hollis, and Willie Carson contributed to the victory by controlling the backboards after every attempt at the basket. Laredo led until the quick-moving Eagles staged a fast rally led by Earl Wright.

BRACK vs EDGEWOOD

Edgewood's harmless Red Raiders, as some schools know them, proved to be at least threatening as they came within one point of the better Eagles in their second game of the district race. It was a tight game at certain points but otherwise the Eagles dominated play. It was the reserves that let the Raiders creep up on the lead and gave them their chance at an upset. But the Eagle lineup came back into the game to cool things off in the last period and win the contest 57-56.

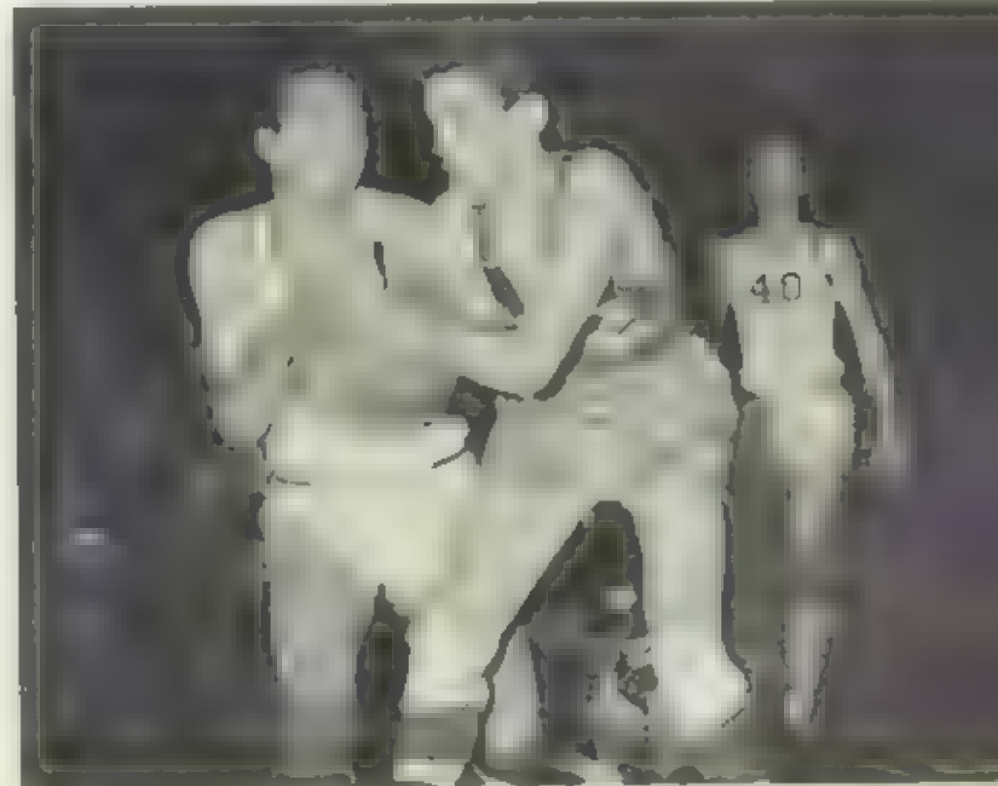

Brack's favorite roundballers skipped across town to Edgewood for their second game of the last round in the conference race. But it was a totally different story than that of the first contest that was played at the Alamo Stadium Gym. The Brackites jumped to a quick lead and piled it up to as much as 20 points during the game. Then in the second half the Red Raiders shortened the lead to eight points, but the Eagle quintet fattened it again and ended up with a 12-point victory in their hands, 60-48.

Eagles Trip The Voks

BRACK vs LANIER

Brack's eager quintet rushed into their third district tilt with two victories in conference competition and tangled with the Sidney Lanier Voks in a see-saw battle at the Alamo Stadium Gym on January 12, 1960. The Voks, who had previously beaten the Warbirds in the Alamo Heights Tournament, jumped into a quick lead and held it for a short time. However, the lead changed hands a number of times before the contest was over. The Eagles held a one-point lead with only five seconds to go in the game when Lanier's Jesse Alvarado sank a stunning two pointer from half-court. As the ball was in the air the horn sounded, but that didn't stop Alvarado's desperation shot that gave Brack a district loss, 46-47.

The rebounding Eagles bounced into the district headlights by shooting and rebounding past the Voks to the tune of 58-34. The Brackite victory placed the Eagles in a tie for first place along with Burbank and Laredo. The second game of the conference with Lanier was quite different from the first. The Voks suffered from the loss of players via the diploma route, and at the same time lost their highly-rated place among the teams in the city and district. The Warbirds took quick command of the game and were never in very serious trouble. Lanier's only threat was Jesse Alvarado, who had beaten the Eagles in their earlier encounter on his last-minute shot from half-court.

Alice Loses To Eagles

BRACK vs ALICE

The conquering Warbirds trounced the Alice Coyotes 55-37, in a game that contained an oddly cold first quarter. However, the Eagles returned after the first quarter to lay it on thick for two and a half periods before surrendering to the second and third teams deep in the final quarter. At the end of five minutes of play in the initial stanza, both teams together had only scored five points out of a possible fifteen. Wright, Hollis and Carson continued to dominate the backboard while pushing the Eagles to their second district win of the season. The Coyotes seemed to be stronger than they had been given credit for earlier in the season.

The proud Brackite cagers, seeking new scenery and another district win, made their way southeast to the home court of the Alice Coyotes for their last trip of the season. The ball-hawking Eagles ripped up the home-town hounds 74-25 and presented new hope for their championship dreams in the 16-AAAA race against Laredo and Burbank. Earl Wright also helped his own scoring fantasies as he pocketed 29 points from the contest, four more than the entire Alice team together could put forth. The Eagles skipped through their contest without a worry, and the majority of the reserves played most of the game.

Wright, Balderrama, Carson, and Hollis get set for rebound control.

BRACK vs BURBANK

The heart-broken Eagles, still disappointed about their one-point loss to Lanier, despite their win against Alice, faced the surprisingly strong Burbank Bulldogs in an Alamo Stadium tussle. However, at the conclusion of the contest the Eagle five found more heart aches in the same category, 35-36. Early in the fourth period the Eagles overcame a Burbank lead and held the top until five seconds to the final horn. Then the roof fell in on the Brackenridge cagers when Rudy Uralies cashed a two-point check to place the Bulldogs ahead one point and freeze the ball the remainder of the contest.

This familiar sight is the begining of the Brack-Burbank game early in the year.

Burbank--Brack Take One

It was a mighty determined and victory-minded Warbird team that met the grinning Bulldogs in the second round of the district race at Alamo Stadium on February the twelfth. And victory was the outcome as the eager Eagles rushed past the Bulldogs 47-41 in what was one of Brack's best games of the season. The Eagles jumped right into the swing of things by taking the lead and holding it the better part of the game. With a ten point lead at the beginning of the final period, the Brackites fed their opposers some of their own medicine when they froze the ball the latter part of the quarter and turned their grin into a frown.

BRACK vs TECH

Tech's unpredictable Buffaloes, who gave Burbank, a district leader, a bad scare, were the victims of Brack's fourth district victory, ending the first round of competition for the conference title. The second place Warbirds had a tough time of it in the first minutes of the game but came through later to skin the Buffs 56-40. Tech's Gilbert Taboda was one of the Bisons' main guns and the Eagles' biggest problem. But Earl Wright, along with James Valdez and Wardell Hollis stole all of the limelight from the All-District Buffalos and split it five ways with Jesse Rios and Forward Wilhe Carson.

Warbirds Sweep Past Tech

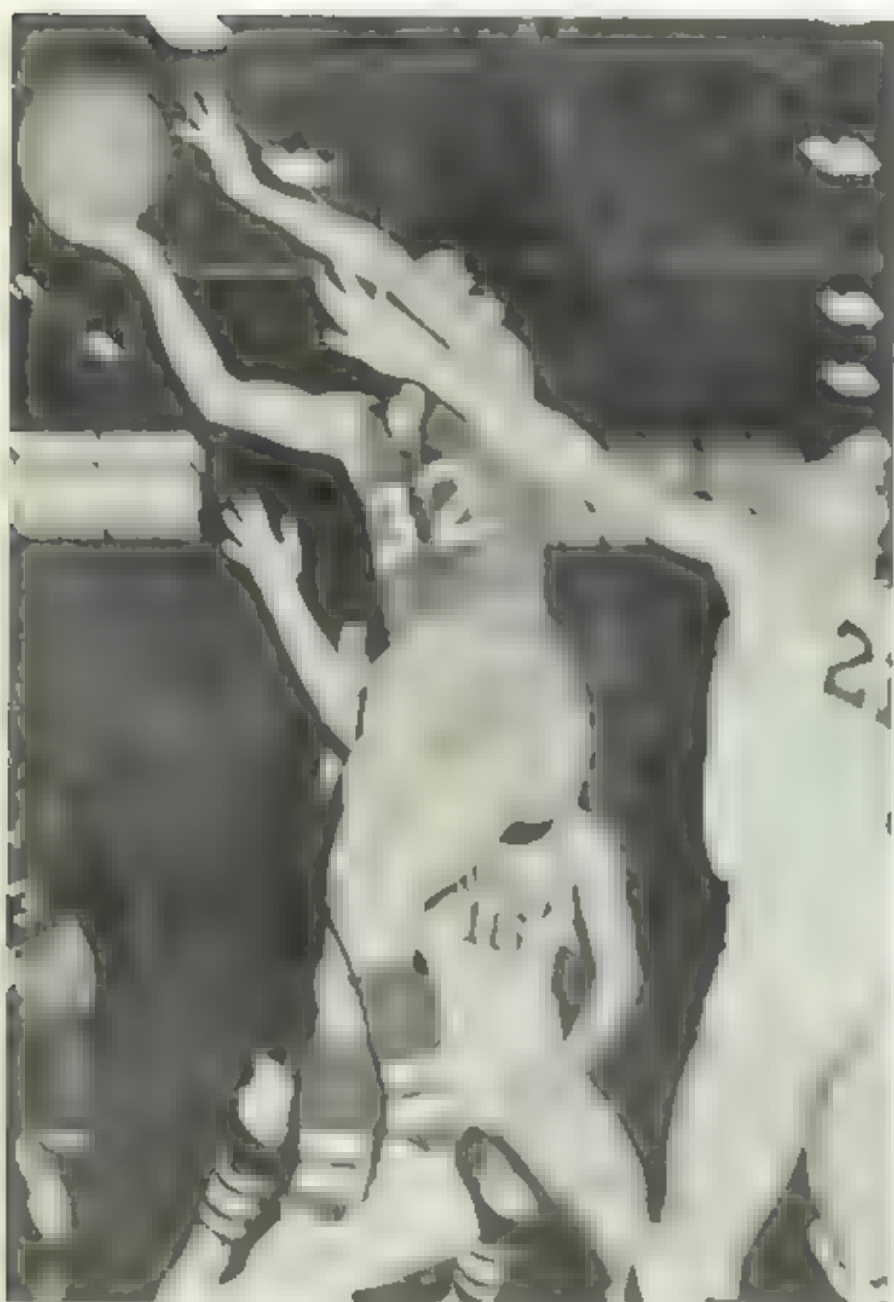

Robert Zarbaugh puts his two in as he sits on Miller's shoulder late in the game.

The San Antonio Tech-Brackenridge game, scheduled for February 16, 1960, highlighted the 1959-60 16-A AAAA district race and could very easily be the gateway to the state championship. Holding a 9-2 record in conference play, the Eagles could tie Laredo for the crown by downing the up and down Buffaloes for the second time. However, the Eagles weren't overconfident for this one and were not about to fall beneath the weaker Buffs when there was so much at stake. Therefore, the Warbirds whipped the Bisons 54-41 to earn the right to play Laredo for the privilege of representing the district in the bi-district tilt.

BRACK vs LAREDO

The Brack-Laredo game, played for the right to represent the 16-AAAA teams at the bi-district tilt against Alamo Heights, was given an Eagle-size boost when Brackenridge sprung their third win on the home-town Tigers by a score of 48-43. The second game of the 2-out-3 series was played at Alamo Stadium before a close-to-capacity crowd but gave the Eagles a lot more trouble than their initial contest with the former champs. The Cats hit the court in a "blitzkrieg" fashion and rushed past the Warbirds 59-46. However the Brackites raced back the following night to halt the Tigers 54-50 in what was one of the better played games of the year for both clubs.

Earl Wright awaits the rebound from a teammate; it seems to be good for two points so there won't be much work.

Pint-size Valdez rustles up two points for us against the Maroons.

BRACK vs AUSTIN

The Eagles suffered their most fatal loss of the season at the hands of the Austin Maroons by a rough score of 48-49 at the Texas Lutheran Gym in Seguin, Texas. The Eagles fell far behind their giant-size opponents in the opening minutes of the game 7-1, but later caught up to tie the Maroons at 28-28 at the half. In the third period the Maroons again went ahead but the Warbirds again passed up the Maroons and posted a 5-point lead close to the end. However, the Eagles dropped their lead when the opponents rallied to get in front by one point. From then on the rest of the contest was a see-saw battle with the gap never going beyond one point.

BRACK vs HEIGHTS

A cold, damp night accompanied the crowd of 1,300 that jammed the St. Marys University gymnasium to witness San Antonio's hottest contest in basketball between the favored Alamo Heights Mules and the Brackenridge Eagles. The Mules, picked as ten-point favorites, entered the contest with one district loss and an amazing 27-3 season record.

Heights took a 12-4 lead early in the first period, but an Eagle rally shortened the difference. Midway through the second period the power failed, and the game suffered a 30 minute setback. When play resumed the Mules were again clicking, and the score at the half was 42-35, their honor.

After fattening the lead in the third quarter, the Burros fell beneath the Eagle claws. A five-foul limit plagued Heights as three of their men were benched. Sharpshooter James Valdez was the lone Eagle to foul out; and Wardell Hollis, Earl Wright and Willie Carson hogged rebounds and brought the Eagles into a 6-point lead in the final minutes of the game. The Eagles cashed in on the fouls and found themselves the proud owners of a bi-district crown, decorated with a 74-65 stomping of the highly-publicized Heights Mules.

Eaglets Play For City Championship

The Brackenridge Eaglets won the school's respect in their own bracket. The "B" team kept up their big brothers' name of honor by earning the district championship in the southern division of the Alamo League. The Eaglets, as they are called, worked their way through a rough schedule and ended up in a three way tie for first place along with Burbank and Highlands. However, our "B" team knocked both of their opponents out of the playoffs for the title and earned the right to compete against the Edison Cubs for the City Championship title at Alamo Stadium Gym on Thursday, February 25, 1960. The outcome of the game was out in the same department as the other playoff games played earlier. The Eaglets took the lead at the start of the contest but were forced to turn it over to the Cubs at certain points. In the third quarter they were left further behind by the Edisonites but retaliated in the final period by way of Joe Holguin. Joe, high-point man for the Eaglets, sunk in eight points in a row to shorten the gap for the Brackites, but it was one of those days when nothing goes right and the "B" team was forced to drop their championship bid to Edison 46-50.

Spikers Take Third

William Fuller and Michael McCall sprint for the short distances.

The 1960 Brackenridge High School Eagle track team made its first appearance in an early season practice meet. The purple and white suited cinder-men raced themselves to a third place berth in their initial meet at Alamo Stadium, taking first in a few events. High-point man for the meet was Brack's sprinting ace Mike McCall. Our galloping friend beat his opponents in the 220 yard dash, then got nicked out of first in the century by a chest, leaped his way into first in the high jump, took third in the broad jump, and anchored the winning sprint relay, totaling 15 points out of a possible 28-5 scored by the Eagles. He also showed great promise for later in the season.

The outlook for the track team will be pretty good, but we are sorry to say that the publication of the annual did not permit further coverage of the team. But the team will be composed something similar to this: in the sprints the team will be well represented by William Fuller and Michael McCall and Wardell Hollis possibly substituting at occasions. The sprint relay is being made up of William Fuller, Mike McCall, Carroll Cobb, and Andrew Benford. Willie Carson, William Fuller, Ray Glasco, and Raymond Garza will be the quartet that will participate in the mile relay. The linemen's relay, who every year claims more than their share of first places, is made up of Charles Bellinger, George Saldana Ray Glasco and Willie Carson. The linemen's relay comes closest to breaking the record set by Brackenridge.

Cindermen Prepare For

Charles Bellinger endeavors to demonstrate the art of shot-putting to Wardell Hollis and Tommy Pateman.

The Eagles will be equally represented in the field events as well as in the running games. Wardell Hollis, Charles Bellinger, and Tom Peterman are the three musketeers with the heavy twelve-pound iron called the shot put. This same trio will be pitching the flat, pan-cake-shaped discus into the air in hopes for a new record. In the paths of running broad jumpers we find the familiar tracks of Michael McCall, along with Emilio Medrano. Grover Cleveland, perhaps one of the smallest Eagles on the cinders, is holding down the job of pole vaulter and doing a good job considering that it is his first year. The final field event finds Michael McCall and George Saldana sailing over the high jumping bar. The large track team has been a little harder to rebuild than the other teams, but in one year the results have turned out pretty good.

Garza hands the baton to Carson for the last lap in the mile relay.

Brack Coaching Staff Leads

COACH MORRIS FROST

After eight years of coaching and reaching the end of his ninth, Coach Weldon Forren finds himself the proud boss of a good coaching staff. Mr. Forren is a product of San Benito High School and attended Baylor University where he received his B.S. degree in 1951. Prior to his present job Mr. Forren coached at Clifton and Hamilton, Texas. Aside from coaching, Mr. Forren belongs to the history department of the faculty.

The person responsible for Eaglet players on the Brack coaching staff is Coach Morris Frost. Mr. Frost, who graduated from East Texas Baptist College with a B. A. degree, taught at Converse and Hallsville High Schools before arriving on the Eagleland campus last year. Coach Frost is head of the "B" teams in football and basketball aside from his duties in room 226, where he instructs mathematics part of the day.

COACH CHARLES BROWN

COACH HERMAN HUMBLE

*Best Wishes to you in the future.
Coach Brown*

Possibly the truest Brackite on the coaching staff is the only ex-student, Coach Herman Humble. While attending Brack a few years ago, Mr. Humble lettered in football, basketball and track. Later the head basketball coach went to Southwestern University where he received his B. A. degree in science and physical education. Upon graduation he taught at Sam Houston before coming to Brack-enridge where he's been teaching and coaching for the past six years.

Coach Charles Brown is a graduate of Kerrville's Tivy High School and outside his coaching job on the field he is a biology teacher with a B. S. degree from Trinity U. He had taught at Hawthorne and Cooper Junior High Schools before accepting his assignment to Brack for 1958. Mr. Brown is Coach Forren's assistant on the gridiron and coaches the track team, which he is trying to rebuild to its past status.

P.E. Classes Bring

Brackenridge takes pride in its fine physical education department and gains from it greatly.

The feminine half of the physical education program is conducted under the guidance of Misses Patricia Mead and Ruth Naylor. The girls' program usually consists of volleyball, captainball, exercising and various other miscellaneous games. The girls sometimes are taught to march so as to help encourage them to join the P.J.'s. Thus, the P.E. department helps the school, as well as the student herself.

There is nothing like a tough basketball game for fun.

Fun In Competition

The masculine half of the physical education program is probably the most active. The boys are given opportunities to build up their bodies as well as their mental alertness through the uses of certain activities, such as weight lifting, football, baseball and basketball games, and climbing ropes. The P. E. classes are also responsible for a portion of the athletes representing the school in various sports. The weight lifting portion of it is something new that is working out very well.

Sweetheart,

It took a very long time, but destiny cannot be evaded. It's so nice to know that I have always occupied a special place in your angelic heart. I hope that you will realize that I am earnestly sincere in all my endeavors, and that I shall always retain that "special" position for you—explicitly in my heart. Please, no matter what the future holds, always remember I admire you greatly.

Hoping I remain yours,
(Always!)

Organized to show teenagers the fun they can have without intoxicating beverages, Allied Youth is the only club of its kind. The election of Robert Perry, president, and other new officers was the kick-off point for the organization this year. Making posters to interest new members was one of their major works, and a cake sale helped make the club wealthier. Some of their fun-packed affairs included a Halloween party, a Christmas party, and a skating party. A final banquet with the installation of new officers was the closing event for the year.

Tickling Bobby Perry seems to be an easy chore for these two.

The Enos Gary F. T. A. Club of Brackenridge began a very prosperous year with an election of new members which almost doubled the size of the organization. Following the election, the club started to work on a very full schedule. Trips to Kerrville and Denton for the district and state F. T. A. conventions were among the most interesting events in which the members participated. At the meetings, members were encouraged with educational films and guest speakers to follow teaching careers. The traditional banquet brought the year to a wonderful climax with the installation of the new president and vice-president. F. T. A. members will certainly have many fine memories of their work in this club.

Mr. Hastings seems happy over the election of new officers.

The Boys' Science Club was founded in 1946 in order to promote interest in science and to increase brotherhood at Brackenridge. The meetings were made very exciting with experiments in which the members participated. Field trips to places of scientific interest also added to the variety of events. They visited the computer section of Kelly Air Force Base, the weather station at International Air Port, and the Mars Radio Station at Brooks Field. Mr. Holst, the sponsor, arranged the field trips, and helped make the club activities interesting and successful.

While striving to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character, the Gamma Beta Phi Hi-Y members enjoyed another successful year. They made banners for the football buses and never failed to support Brackenridge loyally at all times. They also represented their school very well when participating in rifle matches and football and basketball games. With some of the money raised by a candy sale, parties were given by the club at Halloween and Christmas. The meetings were held at the Young Men's Christian Association and swimming or other sports sometimes followed.

With a large number of boys enrolled in R.O.T.C., the Officers Club of Brackenridge has the joy of running the organization smoothly. Alex Sandoval, president, along with the other officers guided the mass wisely. Membership in this club is limited strictly to officers.

One of their big jobs is training the cadets in military tactics. The boys also keep up the morale of each R.O.T.C. member. A summer picnic is one of their big social events. Sponsoring the Military Ball is their biggest project.

Purple Masques

Those Brackites who have discovered that they have a yen to be a part of the acting world are given an opportunity to satisfy their desires, as well as test their dramatic abilities, in Purple Masques. The main purposes of this club are to arouse interest in dramatics at Brackenridge and to provide theatrical experience for students who are interested in the theater. To become a member of Purple Masques, a student must have completed his apprenticeship and accumulated thirty-five or more service hours.

The club got off to a flying start this year with the presentation of their first production, "Dora, the Beautiful Dishwasher." Several other very successful plays were presented during the year. Although these productions required a lot of hard work, the members had many rewarding hours of fun at cast parties, a Christmas party, and the fabulous banquet held at the end of the year.

Stevensons have a good time selling cake to the hungry students as they leave school

The main purposes of the Stevensons, a very old club at Brackendale, are to promote charity and good will. A delightful, although mysterious, initiation party for new members was the first event on their calendar this year. Brack's first cake sale of the season was sponsored by the club and they also raised money by selling Christmas cards for the print shop. The members were rewarded for all their efforts with a skating party where pins were awarded to the best saleswomen. Their main charity project for this year was the donation of toys to orphans at Christmas. These toys were collected at a Christmas party for members and their dates. With the helping hand of their wonderful sponsor, Mrs. Hedden, the members of the Stevensons have made it one of the most enjoyable and eventful years in the club's history.

The Brackenridge Print Shop, Chapter 129 of the Industrial Club of Texas, started a busy year with the formal initiation of twenty-one new members. They print the Brackenridge Times, memorandum pads for teachers, programs, stationery, lapel strips, and the Student Directory. Other printing jobs were also performed. The club made several field trips to different industries of the city which added interest to their program. District and state conventions were also looked forward to. One of the highest honors students in the choral classes can acquire is the opportunity to become a member of the Eagletons. This choir consists of sixteen members with better than average voices. To qualify for membership one must have average grades. Try outs are held in the fall, and eligible students are required to sing as a test. The Eagletons entertain at school functions and compete in contests. At the end of the year a banquet is held and new officers are announced. Awards are also given.

Sings At Open House

The Girls' Glee Club of Brackenridge enables girls to participate in many enjoyable activities while developing their voices. Their main purpose is to entertain, and they sing at the special assemblies held at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. In order to raise money they sometimes put on variety shows. Participation in a state-wide contest offers good experience to each member and very high ratings have been received by the club in the past years.

They also perform at several junior schools throughout the year. A paper drive helped them earn money and they also helped in the presentation of a variety show which increased their wealth. Under the direction of Miss Chamberlain the choir has become very outstanding.

Our sponsor, at 12:00 midnight.

According to the custom we felt it would be appropriate to save our best and most important "link" for the end. This book has been dedicated to a very worthy person, but we would now like to dedicate the hard work, the frequent tension, the tears, and the many hours of fun which made the production of the 1960 La Retama possible to the person most important to us—Mrs. Bettye Willson.

The making of an annual is not so simple as some may think. First, it requires much planning and then, diligent work is needed to develop the plans. Through her past experience with yearbook work, our sponsor, Mrs. Willson, was able to guide us and present many helpful ideas to us. When meetings were held during the summer, she was always present to help us in every way possible. After the actual work had begun, she never hesitated to stay after school when deadlines had to be met and she encouraged us when spirits were low. For those things we are truly grateful and it is with pride and respect that we thank her.

In Recognition

To the businessmen, merchants and our many friends in San Antonio through whose help this book is published, we, the '60 staff of La Retama, extend our thanks and hopes that Brackenridge will support you as you have supported us.

We hope that as you leaf through the pages of this book you will remember Brackenridge — 1960 — as your year of GOLDEN CHAIN OF MEMORIES.

Best of luck to a real nice girl who I have enjoyed having for two classes. May God bless you always and keep you well guarded. May your future be bright with happiness. May we remain the best of friends.

Dear Mary,
You are too sweet to be forgotten
May God bless and keep you.

your friend Always,
Barbara

A day is ended, a year is past--and so with the turning of the last page in your 1960 La Retama, you wind up the last
